3,000 CARPET WORKERS IN LOWELL STRIKE

LOWELL, Jan. 12.—Three thousand employees of the Boston Carpet Company are on strike today as the result of a dispute which started eight weeks ago and which became general today, so that the entire plant had to be closed. Only four workers consented for duty when the dispute first began.

The strike started when the Boston workers went out eight weeks ago, claiming that the agreement made with them in 1910 was being broken. They demanded a 10 per cent increase in wages, but the company refused. The strike has been very bitter, and the workers have been very persistent in their demands.

OLD MIDDLEBORO HOTEL HAS CLOSED

MIDDLEBORO, Jan. 12.—The board of directors of the Middleboro Hotel has decided to close the hotel for good. The hotel has been in operation for many years, but it has been losing money for some time. The board has decided to close the hotel for good, and the building will be sold.

COLE CHARGES BEFORE SALEM JURY THIS WEEK

SALEM, Jan. 12.—The grand jury of Essex County, which is to hear the charges brought against Speaker John N. Cole by citizens of Andover, will sit this week. The charges are that Cole violated the statutes in securing reduced rates for students from the Boston & Maine Railroad, was sworn in here today. It is expected that the jury will hear the charges some time this week.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Skating was given a grand finale today. More than 100,000 people went out to the Bois de Boulogne and the Bois de Vincennes.

WILD RUSH ON CURB TO DEAL IN BOSTON-ELY

Over 7,000 Shares Sold in the First Hour's Trading, with a Slump to 21.

There was a crash of business at the opening of the Boston curb market in Essex street today. The point of interest was Boston City, which opened at such a discount on Saturday.

In the opening hours something over 7,000 shares of the stock changed hands, and on the receipt of the news of this trading the price fell from an opening of 31, up to 1/2 of a point from the close of Saturday, to 21. This drop took place in the first few minutes, and there were thousands of shares sold in the curb market. There was a recovery after the first hour, but the price of the stock did not recover the loss which it sustained at the opening.

THAW HUNTED BY WITNESS & TESTIFIES

James Clinch Smith, Brother-in-Law of Victim of Roof Garden Tragedy Tells Story on Witness Stand of Actions That Preceded Shooting—Garvan Opens for the State.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Harry K. Thaw appeared to be watching someone in the audience—presumably Stanford White—for half an hour before the tragedy on the Madison Square roof garden, according to the testimony given to-day by James Clinch Smith, a brother of the wife of the dead architect.

Mr. Smith's sworn story further went to show that Thaw acted perfectly rational before the shooting while they conversed for half an hour about business and other affairs. Mr. Smith's testimony was given in a graphic way. The severe cross-examination of Lawyer Littlefield made slight break in it.

Smith told how Thaw had walked back and forth looking over the audience. He had watched Thaw's party and Thaw himself from the time he appeared on the roof, he stated.

And when Thaw left his seat on continued to keep watch on him," queried Mr. Littlefield.

"I did," replied Smith.

Why?

"Because I was interested in what he was doing," Smith answered.

Thaw and his party were in the audience when the tragedy took place. Thaw was sitting in the front row, and his party was sitting in the back row. Thaw was looking at the audience when the tragedy took place.

"Premeditated Crime"

Prosecutor Garvan

"We know that the killing of Stanford White was deliberate and premeditated murder; that the responsibility under the law is absolutely apparent; that he fired three times to make his dastardly crime sure, and when the evidence is all in we shall ask you for a verdict of murder in the first degree." From Assistant District Attorney Garvan's opening speech.

Garvan continued his opening speech, stating that the evidence was overwhelming and that the jury should find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree.

Boston-Ely--Big Advance

Boston-Ely stock practically monopolized the attention of all brokers in the curb market on Saturday. Up to that time it had been inactive, the sales amounting to only a few hundred shares each day. Two weeks ago it sold at less than 40 per share. On Friday it sold at $50 per share.

Saturday morning I printed an advertisement advising the purchase of this stock as a speculation for immediate advance, or as an investment for a long pull.

As a result of my public advertisement, the stock became far by far the most active of any on the curb market; in fact, the transactions in the stock on Saturday were equal in volume to the combined transactions in all other curb stocks.

The lowest quotations of the day was 2 1/2, the high 2 1/2, the last sale recorded being at 2 1/2.

Stock exchange houses and curb brokers were alike amazed at the sudden activity in this stock. My information is that orders came in by telegraph, mail and long distance telephone from all parts of New England, and 30 minutes before the close of the exchange at noon hours having private wires to New York were surprised to receive much of activity in the stock on the New York curb.

It was all a marvelous demonstration of the power of publicity when aimed in the right direction. In my announcement I stated that I had been looking into the possibilities of Boston-Ely, and as a result of my investigations I felt sure that the stock would have an immediate and rapid advance. I said that by the middle of this week the advance movement, in my opinion, would be fairly under way.

The fact should not be overlooked that the par value of Boston-Ely shares is $10, and that the capital stock is extremely low, there being only 20,000 shares, of which only 10,000 shares have as yet been issued, the balance, 10,000 shares, remaining in the treasury to be sold for the benefit of the company at the discretion of the directors.

I believe today will see even greater activity in Boston-Ely stock than was witnessed on Saturday. Just how far it will advance before the closing of the market today will, of course, be governed by the orders in hand.

Any stock exchange house or curb broker will execute orders for this stock. My advice, however, to persons, in sending orders by mail, telegraph or otherwise, is to place them "at the market" or at any price under 44 per share. If you want the stock, this is the only sure way of getting it while the quotations are set at a low figure.

I will, of course, execute all orders for this or any other stock dealt in on either the exchange or curb market.

My long distance telephone is Main 480.

"I COULD KEEP ON PAYING 'SHARK' ALL MY LIFE"

William Russell Says He Has Paid $39.30 and Still Owes the Original $25 He Borrowed.

That a person borrowing only a small sum from a "money shark" can be left in debt as long as he lives is proved by the experience of William Russell, a retired machinist worker of the city, who secured $25 from J. J. Henry of Lynn, Mass. and is now more than a decade in debt to the creditor.

At first Russell paid the interest, for thirty months he made $25 for making the loan, but when the interest was paid, he found himself in a worse position than when he first borrowed the money. He had to pay the interest on the principal, and when he paid the interest, he found himself in a worse position than when he first borrowed the money.

After Joe Kirtus will get down to business today at the National League's offices in the Paddock Building, President Brown will go over the duties of players and in making out his schedule.

Brown will be up acquainted with the club. He will go to the real house on and down the street, and will be in the game plan.

Joe Kirtus says the club team is sure to be a success. He says the club has been known to the club, and he is doing it for both leagues.

His games will be played in Texas this year.

men registered as 9,366 registrars for chauffeurs, against 11,640 owners, 7,535 chauffeurs in 1906. The above figures are counts of cars, not of men, and consistently prove that last year was the best in the history of the industry. These figures are impressive, as they show to any one who reads them that the American automobile has moved from mechanical construction, fixability and that it has shown the best of the fact that the American
